MAJOR HELLER AGAIN TO HEAD SHRINE GROUP

Maj. William A. Heller, Hollidaysburg, now stationed with the Army Engineers at Fort Meade, Md., has been renominated president of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association, the board of directors of the organization announced today.

Heller had served as first president of the two-year-old organization but retired from the post upon receiving an overseas assignment by the Army. He succeeds John J. Coughlin, Harrisburg, who served as president during Heller's absence.

The board also announced the appointment of Cliff Arquette as honorary emergency fund chairman. Arquette resigned from active participation in the drive for funds because he plans to move to California next month. He is closing his museum here.

Robert D. Hoffmeyer, Harrisburg school teacher, was elected vice president. Others renominated were: Dr. Robert L. Blooms, Twin Oaks, secretary, and Henry M. Scharf, Herr's Ridge, treasurer.

SPENT $70,300

Scharf's report showed $70,300 spent for land acquisition during the past year, of which $20,000 was paid for the Wolf Farm between Big Round Top and the Devil's Den. $50,000 was paid toward the purchase of the 175-acre Meals Farm. Total cost of the property will be $175,000. $300 was a deposit on the Gettysburg Gun Club land.

Preliminary plans were made for presentation of the Wolf Farm tract to the National Park Service. Retiring President Coughlin will serve as chairman for that event.

The resignation of William Andes, Lancaster, as a director was accepted with regret. No successor was immediately named.

Retiring President Coughlin, in his report for the year urged greater support of the campaign by the federal government. He said:

"Certainly the effort which has resulted in the acquisition of $70,000 of land has been worthwhile. This money has come from scores of schools and thousands of people from all parts of the country and from foreign lands, who have evinced deep concern for the preservation of this hallowed area.

"It is undeniable, nevertheless, that the real responsibility for the preservation of the Gettysburg Battlefield is that of the U. S. government and it appears that the concern of the National Park Service for the preservation of the strategic July 1 battle area is far behind that of the thousands who have enabled us to accomplish what we have so far.

"We are determined to continue our efforts to save the battlefield but there are indications that the government must soon concern itself to the extent of making sure this historic area is not doomed."

Reds Complete Nuclear Tests; Ready To Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today agreed to a call by the United States and Britain to resume negotiations Nov. 28 for a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests.

The Russians agreed to resume the talks in Geneva where they were broken off Sept. 9 after the Soviet Union had resumed testing in the atmosphere.

Soviet acceptance of the Western proposal indicated that it has completed its current series of tests—which included explosion of a hydrogen bomb of more than 50 megatons.

In notes delivered to the British and American embassies today, the Soviet Foreign Ministry warned that if some other power tests nuclear weapons while the new talks are going on, it will be forced "to draw the corresponding conclusions concerning nuclear tests."

GHS SENIORS RATE WELL IN STATE TESTS

"Gettysburg High School seniors who graduated in June were above the national and state average in all phases of Pennsylvania's 1960 senior testing program sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction's Division of Guidance and Testing," Miss Louise Ramer, guidance counselor, announced today.

The average achievement shown by the Pennsylvania and GHS students tested in the first month of their senior year follows with the GHS ratings in parentheses: Reading vocabulary, Grade 11.5 (12.3); reading comprehension, Grade 12 (12.7); mathematics reasoning, Grade 12.5 (12.8); mathematics fundamentals, Grade 12.4 (13.3); mechanics of English, Grade 11.5 (13); spelling, Grade 10.9 (12.2).

On the average Pennsylvania seniors performed up to the national average in reading comprehension and approximately half a year above the average in mathematics reasoning and mathematics fundamentals, she said.

The Pennsylvania average was half a year below the national average in reading vocabulary and mechanics of English and more than a full year below the national average in spelling.

Results of GHS seniors' tests show that in the national norm, the school is one year and nine months ahead in mathematics fundamentals, seven months ahead in reading comprehension, two years ahead in mechanics of English, three months ahead in spelling, two months ahead in reading vocabulary and one year and three months ahead in the mathematics reasoning.

To determine how well Pennsylvania's students were mastering basic skills in mathematics, English and reading, there were 17,516 pupils from 111 high schools in all of the state's 67 counties represented in the testing program.

Emphasis was placed on science, social studies and scholastic aptitude in this year's program administered to the class of 1962 at Gettysburg High School. Results of these tests will not be available until next year.

BRING SUIT FOR INJURIES TO YOUNG SON

John B. Carpenter, 311 Carlisle St., and his two-year-old son, Terry Nelson Carpenter, have brought suit for damages "in excess of $5,000" against Frank D. Hower, 218 N. Stratton St. According to the action in trespass filed in the prothonotary's office for Carpenter and his son by Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, the suit is based on an accident at 3:45 o'clock on the afternoon of last June 23, when Hower was driving north on Carlisle St. and his car struck the two-year-old Carpenter child as the youngster was crossing the street from east to west. At the time the child's mother was crossing the street and the child's father was painting the roof of the porch of his house at the scene of the accident.

The child suffered a broken left leg, abrasions and contusions of the chest and back, lacerations of the back and a cerebral concussion. He was unconscious for three days, according to the complaint, and was a patient at the hospital here from June 23 to August 20.

OTHER SUITS BEGUN

According to the father's claim, the physician's fee was $150, private duty nurses fees were $468 and therapy, medicine and similar fees since have totaled $900. The complaint alleges that the child still walks with a limp, has difficulty running, is nervous and continues to require therapy treatment.

Attorney Hartman also filed in the prothonotary's office Monday two actions in assumpsit.

In the one U. S. Royal Tire Center of Harrisburg alleges that Paul W. Wolf, trading as Paul's Garage, York Springs, owes $402.50 plus interest since October 14, 1959, for antifreeze provided the garage.

The other assumpsit action, by Gates Rubber Co. Sales Division, Denver, Colo., alleges that Rodney O. Bower, trading as Bower's Shell Service Station, E. King St., Extd., Littlestown, owes $1,279.35 plus interest from July 19, 1960, for various merchandise provided by the Gates Rubber Co.

BLOWS DEALT TO SOUTHERN CULTURE CITED

"Although there were some cultural gains made during the existence of the Confederacy, these were far-out balanced by the tremendous losses that resulted from the Civil War," Clement Eaton, professor of history at the University of Kentucky, said in the final lecture of the fifth annual Civil War Conference this morning at Gettysburg College.

Prof. Eaton's lecture was the final one scheduled for the Civil War students who gathered on the college campus Sunday for the three-day Robert Fortenbaugh memorial lectures on the theme "The Problems of the Confederacy."

Prof. Eaton's subject this morning was "What Happened to Culture in the Confederacy?"

PROVINCE OF WOMEN

Noting in his introduction that "the honorable place for any able bodied man in the Southern Confederacy was in the field," Prof. Eaton said cultural activities became largely the province of women and of men incapable of military service.

He continued: "The Civil War, accordingly, began a new chapter in the history of southern women. Before the outbreak of hostilities, the romantic ideals of the Old South imposed severe restrictions on the activities open to women and limited their opportunities for self-culture. The extraordinary conditions of war, however, gave to southern women a new measure of freedom and introduced a new note of realism into Victorian attitudes toward the relation between the sexes. As a result of war conditions, southern women broke the taboo against travel without an escort, although some (Continued On Page 2)

West Berlin Youths Storm Border Wall; Repulsed By Water Hoses And Tear Gas

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police brandishing night sticks rolled back hundreds of West zone youths who tried to storm the Communist-built border barrier Monday night with cries that "the wall must go."

East Berlin police also opened up on the angry demonstrators with water cannon and tear gas grenades and drew tear gas fire in reply from the West Berlin police. Authorities estimated that about 200 grenades sailed over the wall during the exchange. The demonstrations marked the 100th day since East Germany started erecting the wall which virtually sealed off the main escape route for East German residents fleeing the Communist regime.

Lions Raise Money For Conventions

Gettysburg Lions at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening at the VFW Home conducted an auction for the benefit of the club's convention fund.

Adrian Martin was the auctioneer and spent nearly an hour auctioning off articles brought by club members to the highest bidder. Items up for sale covered a wide range from baby shoes to a stuffed pheasant, fresh eggs and a half cord of fireplace wood. The fund netted $66.20.

Forty-six attended with President David C. Bloser presiding. A preliminary report on the charity fund benefit football game was presented by Richard A. Folkenroth.

BAND PARENTS DEBATE CIVIL WAR UNIFORMS

The Gettysburg High School Band Parents' Club at its November meeting Monday evening at the high school discussed again the proposal to secure Civil War period uniforms for the band and hoped for a final decision on the question at the January meeting.

A special uniform committee headed by Dr. Frederick Tilberg said it has no specific recommendation and in the discussion that followed a variety of opinions were presented.

Band Director Robert G. Zeigler told the parents he feels the present maroon and white uniforms "do not fit the picture for Civil War celebrations." Those who favor Civil War type uniforms did not seem in complete agreement as to the exact type of uniform. Some urged that authentic reproductions be secured even if they are more expensive.

Mr. Zeigler introduced band members who will try out for district band positions December 8 at Hershey. The list of students, their instruments and accompanists follows: Guy Weikert, E flat clarinet, accompanied by Miss Paula Olinger; Jean Kime, alto clarinet, accompanied by John Doersom; Joyce Schwartz, bass clarinet, accompanied by Sharon Nett; Joe Woods, B flat soprano clarinet, accompanied by Sharon Nett; Barclay Collins, trumpet, accompanied by Miss Nett; Barbara Johnson, French horn, accompanied by Jane Eiker; Richard Eiker, baritone sax, accompanied by Jane Eiker; James Scott, bass horn, and Ronald Deitch, bassoon.

President Allen Weikert presided. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $1,823.88. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

URGES GIVING THANKS FOR SO MUCH ALL YEAR

The Pilgrim fathers "marked the first Thanksgiving Day by sharing what they had with the Indians they found on their arrival here," Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, professor of Biblical Literature and Bible at Gettysburg College, told the Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

"The history of Thanksgiving Day is marked by gaps from the day in 1621 when the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day until the present time when its observance is spread throughout the land.

"The first national observance of Thanksgiving Day was held in 1789 when President Washington proclaimed a day of thanksgiving for the newly established constitution of the United States.

AIDED BY LINCOLN

"From then until 1863 apparently the day was observed in many states, but was not observed nationally until 1863 when President Abraham Lincoln began the present custom of a national observance. Lincoln was urged by a lady, Mrs. Susan J. Hale, editor of Godey's Ladies Book, who kept promoting the idea until Lincoln finally issued his first proclamation of the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day.

UPSET TRADITION

"Thanksgiving Day continued as the last Thursday in November until 1939 when, to the consternation of traditionalists, (Continued On Page 2)

REC DIRECTORS TALK BUDGET

Routine business was transacted by Gettysburg Recreation Association board of directors at the monthly meeting Monday evening in the rec office at the high school. Much of the discussion centered on the 1962 budget.

He said that senior high basketball will start and the community basketball league will open December 4.

Fourteen teams have entered the bowling league, 6 more than last year. Matches are played Saturday mornings at the Edgewood Lanes. Raffensperger said that he plans to open a "Ladies Slimnastic" class sometime after the holidays and perhaps an adult male physical exercise class.

James Fox, representing a youth community movement in Gettysburg, appeared before the board to ask for supervision in setting up some sort of rec center.

Bills totaling $386.40 approved for payment. They included $219 for the new sliding board.

President Kenneth Dengler presided at the meeting.

NO DANGER OF U.S. SHORTAGE OF FOOD: PIPER

"There is no danger of food shortages in America in the 1960's," Thomas Piper, area marketing specialist for Extension Service, said Monday night at a Farm-City night meeting of the Kiwanis Club at which the Business and Professional Women's Club members and Soroptimist Club members, along with the wives of the Kiwanians, were guests.

The dinner session was held in the social rooms of Trinity United Church of Christ, S. Stratton St.

Detailing the increased production of food in the nation, Piper said agriculture "has a four-year lead at present. We produced enough food in 1960 to handle the needs of our expected 1964 population."

SOME PRICES DROPPING

The nation, if its population advances as fast as predicted, will need vastly increased quantities of food by the 1970's, but Piper indicated his belief that the improved techniques of farming will keep abreast of the population. Speaking of the technical advances in farming science in the last 40 years, he observed, "The development is in all fields. We have new crop varieties, improved fertilizer and antibiotics, artificial breeding, better insecticides and fungicides. As an example 30 years ago it took nine weeks to raise a broiler to a 1½-pound weight, now in nine weeks broilers weigh three pounds.

"One result of the vast increases in food production has been the release of millions of men who otherwise would have to remain in agriculture to feed our nation so that they might become producers of cars and clothes and everything else the nation needs, and thus permit increased standards of living for us all.

"One may ask why the increase in production of food has not resulted in a drop in prices. (Continued On Page 8)

Dutch Officials Hopeful Of Finding Rockefeller; Missing Off New Guinea

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea (AP)—A land, sea and air rescue force combed a savage coastal area of southwestern New Guinea today for Michael Rockefeller, and Dutch officials steadfastly held out hope that he would be found safe.

Four rescue parties set out through jungle swamps with three ships and a Beaver float plane searched from sea and air for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's 23-year-old son, who disappeared Sunday after a boating mishap while on a scientific expedition.

Naval units plucked a Dutch companion of the youth, Dr. R. W. Wassing, 34, out of the sea Monday. Wassing said he last saw Michael—whom he described as a strong swimmer—about 14 miles offshore attempting to reach land with the help of a makeshift float of empty gasoline cans.

Wassing told rescuers that the misadventure started last Thursday while he and Rockefeller toured the mouth of the Eilanden River in a small native boat. They were collecting primitive art and sculpture for the New York Museum of Primitive Art and for a museum to be built in Hollandia.

He said they lost their outboard motor and that the river current carried them into Flamingo Bay where heavy seas overturned the craft. Two tribesmen with them swam ashore and alerted Dutch authorities.

3 DAYS AT SEA
A Dutch plane sighted Wassing clinging to the overturned boat Sunday and guided rescue vessels to the area with flares. Officers of the patrol ship Tasman, which took Wassing aboard, said his condition was satisfactory despite three days of exposure to the sun and sea.

Melton told the court he was AWOL from the Navy, had gone to Indiana with a friend, and then he and Stefanik and Lipsie visited a sister of Stefanik at Harrisburg. Their money ran out, he said, so they broke into three places in Adams County and others in Cumberland and Dauphin County and three places in New York State. They were given suspended sentences, he said, on the New York charges.

Eddie Lee Williams, Arendtsville, charged with forgery of a bank check, was sentenced to from 45 days to one year in jail starting as of October 25 and ordered to pay the costs and make restitution of $31.95, the amount of the check.

URGES GIVING

President Franklin D. Roosevelt moved it to the third Thursday of November. This helped the merchants have a longer Christmas season but proved unpopular and the fourth Thursday again became the Thanksgiving Day.

"We are aware that Thanksgiving is not confined to the United States alone. Many countries have days of thanksgiving, but perhaps none on quite the scale we have here.

"Perhaps we should beware of various things in our observance of Thanksgiving Day. We must avoid setting aside one day for Thanksgiving and then forgetting to be grateful to God the remainder of the year. And we must avoid the temptation to express our thanks with the hope that we will in some way gain even greater comforts in the coming year.

"And in our giving thanks we must be careful to avoid doing to the Pharisee who gave thanks that he was not as other men.

THANKS FOR MUCH

"Let us be thankful this Thanksgiving Day for the integrity which still exists in our land and which is exemplified in so many ways by so many people. Let us give thanks that our lives are not completely secure, for perfect contentment can also be a chain preventing development. It is out of the insecurity of the present that a better tomorrow is born.

"And this Thanksgiving let us focus our attention on the need for service to our fellowman throughout the world. Let us remember the plight of millions who need food and the even more millions who need liberty."

of them protected themselves by carrying a pistol... a few served as spies for the Confederacy and the better educated women could earn their living by obtaining jobs as government clerks.

"Southern women had always worked and had exercised more responsibility than the romantic stereotype of the Old South had represented... The vicissitudes of war increased the responsibilities and work of most southern women... Under the abnormal war conditions, the caste system which had prevailed in some communities tended to disappear.

LITERARY QUALITY
"Until the last year of the war, publishing of books flourished in the Confederacy. The reason for this paradox of a people at war publishing more books than they had during times of peace was that the war and the blockade had removed the competition of Northern publications and forced the southerners to rely on their own presses, magazines and writers. The war also led to a flourishing music publishing business below the Potomac River. The war also led to a tremendous outpouring of poetic effusions."

Prof. Eaton said that while the Confederacy produced no great literature the quality of its literary achievement was higher than for the decade before the war. "The greatest disaster to cultural progress in the South lay in the realm of education," he observed and described the decline of schools and the closing of many Southern colleges and universities that trained leaders of the region. "The good result of the Civil War, the destruction of slavery and preservation of the national unity, are apparent, but the effects of the body blow that the war struck against the economy and the mind and spirit of the South are incalculable for they extended far into the future."

ERROR RULED AGAINST IRISH IN GRID WIN

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Big Ten and the Eastern College Athletic Conference ruled today that Notre Dame's 17-15 victory over Syracuse last Saturday was achieved through a misinterpretation of the rules.

In a joint statement, commissioners of the two conferences expressed "deep regret at the confusion surrounding this issue" but pointed out there is no redress.

Thus, the game still must go into the record books as a Notre Dame victory unless Notre Dame voluntarily concedes the game.

BOOTED FIELD GOAL

The game was won on a field goal by Joe Perkowski after time had officially run out. On the final play of the game, Syracuse was penalized for roughing the player holding the ball and Notre Dame was given another chance after time had officially expired.

Syracuse supporters contended the infraction, if any, occurred after the ball was kicked and that no team had possession. Thus, another play was not called for under the rules.

Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the ECAC, and Bill Reed, Big Ten commissioner, whose offices assigned the officials, agreed with the Syracuse stand.

Klein stated he obtained a law degree from Harvard Law School, when he actually attended Harvard only one year and received the degree from the New Jersey College of Law, now part of Rutgers University.

Committee aides said Klein gave conflicting birth dates and conflicting statements about the spelling of his name and about his mother's birthplace.

S. Wesley Reynolds, NSA security director, told the committee he had checked Klein's security clearance in 1955 and decided the errors on the application form had no security significance.

Committee sources said Klein apparently took a 1949 application form, erased what was on it and typed in new information with a kind of typewriter that was not developed until after 1949.

Dr. Wiley Says Confederate Congresses' Reputation Was Not Good Due To Its Secrecy

Dr. Bell L. Wiley, professor of history at Emory University, Emory, Ga., told historians at the Civil War Conference at Gettysburg College Monday evening, that the three Confederate Congresses had "poor reputations, both during and after the war because of the secrecy they followed throughout the conflict. Nearly all important business was conducted behind closed doors."

The commentary, following his address, was by Dr. Otis Singletary, chancellor, the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C.

Dr. Wiley's address follows in part:

"The Confederacy had three congresses: (1) The Provisional Congress, a unicameral body numbering 106 members at peak strength, made up of delegates elected by the secession conventions of the various states. This body held five sessions, each lasting about a month (save the fourth which was a one-day called session, and the fifth which lasted about three months) from February 4, 1861, to February 17, 1862. Its most important work was to elect the provisional president and vice president, Jefferson Davis and Alexander Stephens, draw up a constitution, and enact the laws necessary for mobilizing, equipping and maintaining during the first year of the conflict the South's land and sea forces.

"UNUSUAL ACTION"

"It took on itself the responsibility of acting as the legislative branch of the government after it completed (within a month and a half) the organization of the government and the drafting of a permanent constitution, and it performed the legislative function for about a year. It justified this unusual action on the ground of the exigencies of the time, and most of the Southern people seem to have approved its course. (2) The First Congress, a bicameral body, which held four sessions between February 18, 1862, and February 17, 1864. (3) The Second Congress, which held two sessions between May 2, 1864, and March 18, 1865.

"All in all, 267 men sat in these three Congresses. The Provisional Congress was the most distinguished of the three. Many of the members had had distinguished careers in the federal government. One of the most distinguished delegations was that of Georgia, which included Howell Cobb, former governor of Georgia, member of Congress and secretary of the treasury under Buchanan.

BETTER THAN DAVIS

"Cobb was president of the Provisional Congress and he presided over the sessions with notable poise and fairness. In view of his administrative talents, his personal qualities and especially his ability to get along with people, he probably would have made a better Confederate president than Jefferson Davis. Other illustrious members of the Georgia delegation in the Provisional Congress were Robert Toombs, Benjamin H. Hill and Alexander Stephens. Under the Provisional Government (but not under the Permanent Government inaugurated February 18, 1862), members of the cabinet could also hold seats in the Congress, and several did. Furthermore, members of Congress could hold military positions. From July, 1861, to February, 1862, Howell Cobb served both as a field commander (first as colonel and then as brigadier) and as president of Congress. While Congress was in session, the military commanders got leave from their units to occupy their seats in the legislative hall.

"The largest delegation in the Provisional Congress was that of Virginia (16 members) and it was one of unusual distinction. One of its members was the venerable ex-President John Tyler who died on January 18, 1862.

WELL EDUCATED

"Most of the members of the Provisional Congress were men of good education, considerable legislative experience and substantial means. In general they were representative of the conservative, propertied interests of the South. In May, 1861, Mrs. Jefferson Davis wrote a friend: 'They are the finest looking set of men I have ever seen collected together, grave, quiet, and thoughtful looking men, with an air of refinement.' L. Q. C. Lamar in 1864 stated that 'The Provisional Congress . . . embraced the highest intellectual and moral worth of the country.'

"The quality of personnel of the First and Second Congresses was not as outstanding as that of the Provisional Congress, though some superior leaders were to be found in all three groups. One of the reasons for the deterioration of Congressional personnel that occurred after the first year of the war was the attraction of military service. Some of the best men left Congress to enter the fighting forces, and a number of them, including Thomas R. R. Cobb, brother of Howell Cobb, and Francis Bartow, were killed in battle.

PERSONNEL TURNOVER

"Another reason for the change was the increasing hardship and frustration of congressional service as the fortunes of the Confederacy declined. Disillusionment on the part of both the congressmen and their constituents was reflected in an enormous turnover of personnel. Only 27 men served in all three congresses. More than one-third of the men who took their seats in the Second Congress that assembled in May, 1864, had not been members of the First Congress. Many of the newcomers to the Second Congress were former Unionists and Whigs and their election (in the campaign conducted in the autumn of 1863) in the wake of the defeats at Vicksburg and Gettysburg was to some extent a protest against the Southern leaders who had taken the South into secession with the promise that the North would not fight to preserve the Union and, if perchance she did, the South would win a quick and an easy victory.

"POOR REPUTATION"

"The Confederate Congress unquestionably had a poor reputation, both during the conflict and afterward. One of the reasons was the policy of secret that it followed throughout the war. Nearly all important business was conducted behind closed doors. Newspaper men resented their exclusion and in their resentment they gave the legislators an unfavorable press—representing them as ineffectual and mediocre. The good name of Congress also was beset by indiscretions on the part of a few of its members. In a heated debate in the Senate William L. Yancy of Alabama accused Benjamin H. Hill of Georgia of telling a falsehood. Hill threw an inkstand at Yancy, cutting the Alabama's face and causing blood and ink to flow down his cheek. Henry S. Foote, representative of Tennessee, was involved in a number of fights. Once in a debate he called E. S. Dargan of Alabama a damned rascal. Dargan rushed at Foote with a knife. After colleagues had pinned Dargan to the floor and disarmed him, Foote struck a dramatic pose and declared: 'I defy the steel of the assassin.' These unseemly affairs were widely publicized. Early in 1865 Foote fled the Confederacy and entered the Union lines. He was expelled from the Congress for deserting his country.

INCREASED SALARIES

"The life of Confederate congressmen was not an enviable one. Their pay was utterly inadequate. At first they got $3 per day, while Congress was in session, plus a small mileage for travel to and from the capital. In March, 1862, pay was increased to $2,760 a year; in June 1864 to $3,520; in December 1864 to $8,220; and in March 1865, just before Lee's surrender, to $16,560. But in terms of prewar dollars, this was a mere pittance, as the gold value of a Confederate dollar in March 1865 was less than two cents. In January 1864, Elias C. Boudinot, representative from the Cherokee Nation, wrote a relative: 'Everything is extravagantly high here. My board costs me $300 per month. I get $230 pay, so you see I am not making a pile being congressman.' On January 14, 1865, Warren Akin, a Georgia congressman, wrote his wife: 'I pay $900 a month board. Everything is very high here. I am doing what I did never did at home. I wear but two shirts a week . . . I carry and use my handkerchiefs until they are soiled so much I am ashamed at times to use them . . . I cannot write much tonight as I have my socks to mend.'

POOR QUARTERS

"Many congressmen stayed in poorly lit and inadequately heated boarding houses. They suffered from loneliness, as very few of them could afford to take their families with them to the capital. Fare in hotels and boarding houses was meagre and costly, diversions were sparse and life in general dreary for most.

"Most of the congressmen were neither geniuses nor dullards, saints nor knaves, spellbinders nor bores. Rather they were politicians of average ability and attainment who worked hard at their jobs and who represented reasonably well the interests of their constituents. They were criticized for short sightedness, slowness, inefficiency and lack of courage in opposing the Davis administration; and much of the censure was unquestionably deserved. But they were not so worthless as they were reputed to be. Many, such as W. S. Oldham of Texas and Herschel V. Johnson of Georgia, supported administrative measures that ran counter to their views, on the ground that their opposition might do the country more harm than the laws to which they objected.

IMPOSSIBLE ISSUES

they were condemned for not solving were by their very nature impossible of solution. Some of their faults were weaknesses inherent in the system of representative government. Law-making bodies in a truly democratic government are generally slow, talkative and prone to the adoption of compromises which represent the desires of no one. The Confederate Congress appeared in worse light than most legislative bodies because it represented a 'nation with nothing,' so to speak, involved in a great modern war with a country whose resources were practically unlimited. And, after all, it did on April 16, 1862, pass the first national draft act in American history and it adopted other measures which according to the ideas of the time, bordered on the revolutionary, including impressment of private property for military use, suspension of the writ of habeas corpus and the levying of taxes on profits, income and farm produce. In the light of the enormous difficulties with which it had to continue, its accomplishments appear more impressive than its shortcomings.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Gettysburg Gets Summer Meeting: Gettysburg on Monday was chosen as the place for holding the 1912 meeting of the Lutheran Summer Assembly, its sessions to be held in conjunction with the session of the Gettysburg Chautauqua. The acceptance of the invitation to come here means that there will be at least 300 or 400 ministers and laymen from a distance here for the ten-day period.

Charged With Horse Stealing: "Josh" Patterson, for a number of years a resident of near Roadside and for the past two years of Adams County, was arrested Sunday evening on the charge of stealing a horse from Amos Funk, Roadside, was given a hearing by Magistrate C. G. Spielman in Rouzerville, and committed to jail for trial at Franklin county court. He was taken to Chambersburg, Sunday evening by Constable Irvin Rodgers.

Expect Busy Sale Season: From prospects this far in advance it is very evident that the spring sale season of 1912 in Adams County is going to be fully as busy as in past years. Though several months are yet to elapse before the opening of the season a large number of farmers have already chosen their auctioneers. The latter have many requests for dates on hand in addition to those which have been deferred until now and during the next few weeks numbers of farmers will make final selections.

Blow Glen Rock Postoffice Safe: Loot amounting to nearly $1,300 in stamps and money was secured by robbers Tuesday night from the Glen Rock post office. The robbery was discovered shortly before 6 o'clock Wednesday morning when Postmaster Granville E. Heathcote went to the office and on opening the door found the safe shattered and the contents missing. There were no clues to the robbery, but the case will be investigated by the postal authorities at Washington, D. C., who were notified.

Captain William H. Adams died very suddenly this morning at 6 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, Jacob Quickle in Biglerville, from acute indigestion with which he was suffering the last three weeks, followed by paralysis.

He was born December 30, 1830, in Lancaster. When he was at the age of four years the family moved to Ohio and when he was seven years of age they came east and located at Fairfield, where he later engaged in tailoring, working for John Shatzer. About 1850 he married Moxs Lovina Whitnigh, who died November 29, 1858, leaving the following children: Amos D. Adams, of Dubuque, Iowa; John Z. Adams, of Youngstown, Ohio; William Harvey Adams, of Gettysburg, and Mrs. Mary E. Quickle, of Biglerville.

Visited Deer Camps: Many Gettysburg people visited the deer camps on South Mountain Sunday and were entertained by the hospitable hunters. All the camps on the mountain had guests on Sunday, the beautiful weather and a desire to see the trophies of the hunt being the principal incentives which took the people out. Real hunting club dinners were served. The clubs have all been about as fortunate as usual and still have hopes that during the last few days of the season a few more deer may be brought down.

Today's Talk
THINGS THAT BELONG TO YOU

I recall reading a sentence that ran like this: "The learned man's country is every country, and each town his town. Why, then, do men remain ignorant?"

Poverty is vastly more marked in those who lack appreciation than in those who have little in money and goods.

We live in a very rich country. The richest man is but a custodian for a brief period though. Much that he boasts as his own in reality belongs to many others. It is like passing a magnificent mansion owned by one of America's wealthiest men. But the owner is seldom there. Caretakers keep the grounds fresh and beautiful with flowers, in season. The daily passer-by sees those flowers often than he who ordered them planted.

For a few minutes each day he has owned that great estate! Many times I feel I own Central Park in New York City, for I am driven through it and behold and love its beauty.

The ignorant are those who refuse to own. And I might add, who refuse to learn, as well.

Every day I am amazed at the number of people who exist in a state of intellectual coma. They make me think of the rich lands I have passed time and again that remain uncultivated.

A bank that has closed its doors is a sad sight. Yet there are human beings who close their minds to intellectual and spiritual life—and do not seem to care.

In summer, the bee goes to the flower and extracts sweetness. But it leaves the blossom as bright and beautiful as ever. It is our business to grow, to find in our friends something sweet and strong and to extract it for our own benefit and then lay ourselves open for profit and gain in the same manner.

How thrilling to explore! Why do we not take more when so much has been left around expressly for us?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Book Of Men And Women"

Just Folks
DADDIES

I would rather be the daddy Of a romping, roguish crew, Of a bright-eyed chubby laddie And a little girl of two, Than the monarch of a nation In his high and lofty seat Taking empty adoration From the subjects at his feet.

He may ride to horns and drumming, I must walk a quiet street; But when once they see me coming Then on joyous, flying feet They come racing to me madly, And I catch them with a swing And I say it proudly, gladly, That I'm happier than a king.

You may talk of lofty places, You can boast of pomp and power; Men may turn their eager faces To the glory of an hour, But give me the humble station With its joys that long survive, For the daddies of the nation Are the happiest men alive.

Little, Parsons Leaders
In Final MAC Statistics;
Taylor Rushing Titlist

Boyd Taylor, Lehigh's power-running fullback from Ridley Park, won the rushing title of the Middle Atlantic Conference's University Division in the final game of the season.

Taylor moved from the No. 3 slot he occupied a week ago into the lead after boosting his five-game total to 321 yards with a superb performance against Lafayette.

Delaware's Mike Brown, a stand out in a losing effort against Bucknell, climbed from seventh place in rushing to finish second with 283 yards.

Bucknell, which finished the university division tie race as runner-up to Rutgers, made its passing attack evident in the division's final statistics.

Gettysburg's Earl Little, the leader in passing and total offense for several weeks, nailed down the titles in both departments with 48 completions for 442 yards, and a total of 461 yards gained through rushing and passing.

Gettysburg's crack pass receiver, Phil Parsons, took the honors in the pass receiving category with 15 catches for 182 yards.

BISONS FOLLOW
Behind Little and Parsons, however, rank a host of Bucknell veterans. Ron Giordano, spark-plug of the Bisons aerial attack, rose from fourth to second in passing and from tenth to second in total offense in the final game of the campaign against Delaware.

He closed the season with 29 completions for 441 yards and a net total offense figure of 412 yards.

In the pass receiving department Bucknell's Dick Tyrrell climbed from fourth to second behind Parsons by raising his seven-game pass catching total to 12. Behind Tyrrell, in this order, are Mike Connell, eight catches for 114 yards; Ash Ditka, eight catches for 105 yards and two TD's, and Rene Clements, seven catches for 110 yards — all from Bucknell.

The only Bucknell player actually to finish in the lead in a statistical category was Joe Elliott, who heads the list of division punters with an average of 37.4 yards on 29 punts.

Rutgers' Sam Mudie won the scoring title with 46 points. Brown of Delaware added a pair of touchdowns at Bucknell's expense on Saturday to ring his five-game total to 36 points and break a tie for second place in scoring. Tied for third place are Lehigh's Pat Clark and Delaware's Joe Slobojan, each with 24 points.

TEAM LEADERS
Rutgers and Bucknell football teams, which finished one-two in the race for the university's division title also wound up with the lions share of the team statistical honors this season.

Final statistics released today reveal that Rutgers boasted the finest ground attack of the eight university division squads, the best total offense average, and the heaviest scoring punch. Bucknell set the pace in passing offense and passing defense and was the toughest squad in total defense.

Other leads in team statistics were held by Delaware, the best team on rushing defense, and Muhlenberg, sporting the best punting average.

Gettysburg ranked third in three categories: Passing offense, 89.8 yards per game; passing defense, 48.6 per game, and punting, 33.6. The Bullets finished seventh in rushing offense 107.4; sixth in rushing defense, 175.2; sixth in total offense, 197.2, and sixth in total defense, 223.8.

NBA HOLDS UP 8-PLAYER TRADE
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Eight National Basketball Association players were thrown into a rule-book limbo temporarily when Commissioner Maurice Podoloff suspended a St. Louis Hawks-Chicago Packers trade Monday.

Podoloff wired Hawks owner Ben Kerner informing him the deal violated an agreement by the Packers not to trade any of the players obtained in a special draft for at least a year. Any trade involving such players is subject to approval of the NBA's board of governors.

The commissioner said the board would meet in New York Wednesday and rule on the trade. In the meantime Woody Sauldsberry, Si Green, Joe Graboski, Fred Lacour and a fifth Hawk player who hasn't been named yet, plus Archie Dees, Barney Cable and Ralph Davis of the Packers are not sure where they belong. The matter is further complicated because the traded players were en route to join their new clubs today.

Chicago, struggling with the league's youngest team and a 2-12 record, faces the unwholesome prospect of meeting the New York Knickerbockers tonight with three players missing. The Hawks' next game is with the Boston Celtics at Boston Wednesday night.

Rens Win, Hold Division Lead
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Pittsburgh Rens, with Jim Palmer topping the scoring and young Connie Hawkins doing the major rebounding job again, stretched their lead to 1½ games in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League Monday night.

Steubenville, Ohio, was the site of the ABL's only game, and with Palmer scoring 23 points and Hawkins grabbing 15 rebounds, the Rens dealt the San Francisco Saints their sixth straight defeat, 108-97.

Palmer, 6-foot-9 former NBA player with Cincinnati and New York, led a balanced Pittsburgh attack that had four other players in double figures.

Pittsburgh now has an 8-3 record compared to 6-4 for runner-up Chicago in the Eastern Division.

Scholastic Turkey Tilts To Decide Main Championships

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A handful of conference championships in eastern Pennsylvania will be among the prizes decided Thanksgiving Day as the 1961 high school football season closes with a score of traditional contests.

Only one game remains west of the Susquehanna River and it's a big one.

Wilkesburg and Monessen play Friday night for the WPIAL Class AA title. It is one of the big prizes of any scholastic football season.

The two WPIAL-AA finalists are among four teams carrying unbeaten and untied records into their final games.

Twenty others already have finished with perfect records.

ALL-WINNING SEASONS
Besides Wilkesburg and Monessen, Pottstown and Wilkes-Barre Meyers have all-winning seasons with one game remaining.

Pottstown has a relatively easy mark ahead in Owen Roberts. A win would give Pottstown the Ches-Mont championship in addition to its unbeaten season.

Wilkes-Barre Meyers has a real tough one in G.A.R. of Wilkes-Barre. If G.A.R. wins, and Kingston also gets past Wilkes-Barre Meyers, G.A.R. and Kingston will wind up tied for the Wyoming Valley title. Meyers can win the title outright by beating its city rival, however.

OTHER GAMES
In other action:

Upper Darby needs to beat Haverford to earn a tie for the Suburban 1 title with Abington, which finished its season last Saturday.

If Springfield Twp. can beat Marple-Newton, it will repeat as Suburban 2 titlist, but a loss would create a triple championship, with those two and Plymouth-Whitemarsh on top.

Pennridge needs to beat up-and-down Quakertown and Central Bucks must beat North Penn for the MVO to wind up tied for the Bux-Mont title.

Bishop Kenrick of Norristown will be favored to beat Bishop McDermott of Wyomissing and repeat as suburban Philadelphia Catholic League Section I champ.

In the Lehigh Valley, high-riding Northampton and Catasauqua meet Thursday to break their deadlock for the title.

Wyoming, which has yielded only one touchdown all season, can close its season with the West Side Conference banner if it defeats West Wyoming.

EASTERN PENN

In the East Penn Conference's Northern Division, Old Forge can take the championship by winning or tying with Taylor-Moosic. Even if it loses, it would take a West Hazleton victory over Hazleton to shake Old Forge out of the top spot in the ratings.

The conference's championship game between the northern titlist and Coal Twp. of the Southern Division is slated for Dec. 2.

The East Penn title game will leave only the Philadelphia City championship to be settled before the books close on the 1961 season.

LEHIGH VALLEY

In the Lehigh Valley, high-riding Northampton and Catasauqua meet Thursday to break their deadlock for the title. And in the Lehigh-Northampton, Pen Argil can win the crown if it defeats Bangor.

Wyoming, which has yielded only one touchdown all season, can close its season with the West Side Conference banner if it defeats West Wyoming.

In the East Penn Conference's Northern Division, Old Forge can take the championship by winning or tying with Taylor-Moosic. Even if it loses, it would take a West Hazleton victory over Hazleton to shake Old Forge out of the top spot in the ratings.

The conference's championship game between the northern titlist and Coal Twp. of the Southern Division is slated for Dec. 2.

The East Penn title game will leave only the Philadelphia City championship to be settled before the books close on the 1961 season. At present, the city's two league titles are up in the air and the city championship contest isn't scheduled, tentatively, until Dec. 9.

AFRICAN WINS IC4A RACE AS STATE IS 2ND

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Machooka, a serious minded native of Kenya, Africa, can't wait for the day when he is graduated from Cornell so he can put his major, agricultural economics, to work among his people.

But he may never make it. "He's having trouble with his grades," said veteran Cornell track coach, Lou Montgomery, today. "He's been trying to do too much. He's out for track and cross-country and is trying to work 24 hours a week."

Machooka, who won the IC4A cross-country championship over a field of almost 275 other runners in the most miserable weather imaginable Monday, does not have a scholarship. His father, a farmer, has no money. So he's paying his own way.

CUT WORKING HOURS
"I'm trying to get his working hours cut to 12 a week," said Montgomery. "That may help some. He will not run in the national AAU cross-country meet in Louisville Thursday, but he'll start in the NCAA championship next Monday."

Machooka is a fine prospect. He won the freshman run last year and on the basis of his time of 25:38.3 minutes over the same 5-mile Van Cortlandt Park Course in the heptagonal championship 10 days ago, was installed as the IC4A favorite.

He came through as expected. He led practically all the way. Once back in the hills, he permitted Vic Zolotak of Villanova to take the lead briefly, then moved back in front and won as he pleased in 26:02.9.

SNOW FELL

Snow was falling when the race started. Then it turned to sleet. The course was ankle deep in mud but at the finish Machooka had a big grin on his face.

"It was fun," he said. "Running is always fun for me. It was fun to let Zolotak pass me and see how fast he could go. I hope to be around this winter and run the mile in some of the indoor meets. I've been clocked in 4:10."

Gerry Norman of Penn State finished second to Machooka about 40 yards back. Zolotak faded to fifth.

Michigan State dethroned Penn State as team champion with 82 points. The Nittany Lions had 90. Gerry Young, in fourth place, and the only Michigan State veteran, led the Spartans.

Rutgers' Mudie Is All East Gridder

NEW YORK (AP)—Quarterback Sam Mudie of Rutgers can attest today that versatility reaps rewards in football.

The senior signal-caller from Eddington, Pa., was named Monday to the weekly major college All-East football team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference for the second time this season. Others named included Center Bill Saul of Penn State, Halfbacks Roger Kochman of Penn State and Fullback Rick Leeson, Pittsburgh.

ALABAMA IS RANKED FIRST IN GRID POLL

By JACK HAND

Unbeaten Alabama moved out front and center today as the No. 1 college football team of the nation in the wake of Texas' defeat by Texas Christian, according to The Associated Press panel of sports writers and sports-casters.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide, 10-0 winners over Georgia Tech, drew 39 first-place votes from the 49-man committee and established a decisive 469-408 edge in points over runnerup Ohio State. Points are figured on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third and so on.

Texas, upset by TCU 6-0, tumbled all the way to fifth place in the big shuffle after Saturday's results were tabulated.

Ohio State whipped Oregon 22-12 for its seventh straight victory since a season-opening 7-7 tie with TCU, the Texas spoliars.

Minnesota, which has won seven straight after losing its opener 6-0 to Missouri, vaulted up to third place with its 10-7 whipping of Purdue. The Gophers, national champions a year ago, edged fourth-place Louisiana State by one point.

The top ten with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Alabama (39)	469
2. Ohio State (6)	408
3. Minnesota (2)	354
4. Louisiana State (1)	353
5. Texas	321
6. Mississippi (1)	266
7. Colorado	114
8. Michigan State	113
9. Arkansas	71
10. Kansas	46

WILT HOLDING 47.9 AVERAGE

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, maintaining his astronomical scoring pace with a 47.9 average, has made a shambles of the National Basketball Association's scoring race after only 15 games.

Chamberlain leads runnerup Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles by 192 points with more than three-quarters of the season remaining. The Warriors' 7-foot-1 skyscraper has 719 points to 527 for Baylor, averaging 35.1 a game.

Baylor is scheduled to report for active military service after Sunday's game. That will leave Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Los Angeles' Jerry West as Chamberlain's closest pursuers. Robertson is third with 509 points and a 31.8 average while West is right behind with 465 and a 31.0 clip.

Bill Russell of Boston has taken over first place in field goal percentage with an accuracy mark of .505, and has forged ahead of Chamberlain in rebounding on an average of 25.5 a game to 25.3 for Wilt. Larry Costello of Syracuse now is No. 1 in free throw accuracy with a .885 average.

Robertson still is the assists leader with 12 a game.

Ohio Conference Names Top Players

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—A 5-foot-8 quarterback who guided Wittenberg to the Ohio Conference football championship and a glue-fingered end from Ohio Wesleyan have been named the outstanding back and lineman in the 14-school conference this year.

The Mike Gregory Memorial Award went to Wittenberg's Gary Tranquill and the Bishops' Don Gerosa.

Tranquill, from Avella, Pa., won the top back honor in a runaway. Gerosa, from Mahopac, N.Y., tied teammate Tom Grissom for the Ohio Conference pass receiving leadership with 34 catches. Gerosa's receptions netted 743 yards and nine touchdowns that tied the conference record.

The Gregory award winners are selected in balloting by the league coaches, scout, and sports information directors.

EAGLES PLAN MANY CHANGES THIS SUNDAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Nick Skorich, trying to bolster his sagging defense to apply maximum speed and pressure from a given point, has announced wholesale changes in the Philadelphia Eagles' lineup for the Dallas game here Sunday.

Skorich announced the changes Monday after he and his assistants studied films of Philadelphia's 45-24 loss to Cleveland Sunday which shoved the Eagles into a second place tie with the Browns in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League. The Browns' Jimmy Brown ran ragged through the Eagles' line, gaining 237 yards.

Among the most prominent changes will be moving stalwart Chuck Bednarik from offensive center to middle linebacker in place of Chuck Weber and the benching of veteran tackle Jesse Richardson. Bednarik played both ways most of last season and led the Eagles to the NFL championship.

CAN DO THE JOB

"It's a tough job," Bednarik said today. "But I'll do my best to do the job. That's what I'm paid for. I know the other fellows in there have been trying their hardest."

Asked about Howard Keys, who Skorich has named to take over at offensive center, Bednarik said of his understudy, a second-year man from Oklahoma State:

"He's a fine football player. He can do the job."

Skorich is mainly concerned with the left side of the defensive line. Here Leo Sugar will remain at left end but John Gunnels, of Georgia, who has been playing right tackle, will move over to left tackle, where he operates best. He will be replaced as the right tackle by Ed Khayat and veteran Marion Campbell. Campbell has been playing right end. The right end spot will be up for grabs between Will Renfro, who has been alternating with Campbell, and Gene Gossage, a fast offensive guard from Northwestern in his second year.

NEED CROSS' SPEED

In the backfield alignment, rookie Irv Cross of Northwestern will take over the injured Tom Brookshier's right wingback slot. Brookshier has been out with a broken leg and another rookie, Glen Amerson, of Texas Tech, had been playing his position. But the coaches felt Cross' speed is needed in the rear.

Weber, who the coaches felt was "scissored" too often in the Cleveland loss, will battle it out with John Nocera for left corner line-backing duties. Maxie Baughman will remain at right corner line-backer.

Skorich also was understood to be dissatisfied with the Eagles' front line play in that he felt they were allowing opposing passers too much time to throw. The Eagles have made only eight interceptions in 10 games.

Says Browns Won't Be Overconfident

CLEVELAND (AP) — A resounding victory over the Philadelphia Eagles hasn't left the Cleveland Browns overconfident as they face their old nemesis, the New York Giants, Sunday.

Fullback Jim Brown, who ran all over the Eagles, probably reflected the attitude of the squad when he commented:

"The way they're going, the Giants may be the best team we'll play all season. They traded themselves into good shape." Brown noted also that "records are nice things to own, but they won't help us beat the Giants."

He was referring to his 237 yards rushing against the Eagles Sunday, which tied his own NFL record for a single game.

The Browns beat the Giants 48-34 at New York in the last game of last season, but before that the Giants had won six straight over a three-year period, including a playoff for the Eastern Division title in 1958.

Always a big drawing-card here, the Giants have been going strong in recent weeks and boast an 8-2 record at the top of the division standings. Cleveland and Philadelphia are tied one game with 7-3 records.

Hershey's Marshall Takes Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Hershey's Willie Marshall, who picked up nine points last week, became the American Hockey League's sixth scoring leader in as many weeks today.

The 29-year-old veteran center, in his 10th AHL campaign, has a league-leading 26 points on 10 goals and 16 assists. That gives Marshall, in sixth place last week, a five-point lead over Springfield's Brian Kilrea.

Hershey's Bobby Perreault is the No. 1 goalie with a low of 2.21 goals allowed a game.

Matthews Earns New Title Shot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Seventh-ranked lightweight Len Matthews, scoring his second victory over eighth-ranked Alfredo Urbina of Mexico, has earned a chance to get another crack at Venezuelan champion Carlos Hernandez.

But whether the Philadelphiaian will be able to make the Dec. 11 card at Convention Hall depends on how fast a cut right eye he suffered in scoring a unanimous 10-round decision over Urbina Monday night heals. Hernandez has beaten both Matthews and Urbina.

Matthews built up an early lead Monday night with sharp left hooks, straight and overhand rights and two-handed combinations, then held on in the narrow victory.

DISPUTE PLAY IN WHICH N.D. BEAT ORANGE

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — High officials of both the Big Ten and the Eastern College Athletic Conference went into separate huddles today hoping to come up with a ruling on the disputed final play of last Saturday's Notre Dame-Syracuse game.

One thing is certain, the result cannot be changed unless Notre Dame itself takes action.

"We are merely trying to find if the officials were in error on the ruling," said ECAC Commissioner Asa Bushnell. "Even if we should find them to be in error, we do not have the power to change the result of the game. This is up to the schools involved."

PENALTY PLAY

The ECAC and the Big Ten supplied the officials for the game. Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed agreed with Bushnell.

Notre Dame won the game, 17-15, on a field goal after time officially had run out. The dispute involved a penalty against Syracuse for roughing the ball holder, George Sefcik, in a place kick attempt that failed.

Syracuse was penalized 15 yards. Then, on the second try, with no official time left, Notre Dame's Joe Perkowski made good on a 41-yard field goal to provide the margin of victory.

Should he have been given the second chance?

The five officials were Gus Skibbie of Bowling Green, head linesman, who made the call; Tony Skover of Detroit, referee, who rules on all infractions; Bob Bauer of Athens, back judge, all supplied by the Big Ten; Cliff Montgomery, field judge, and James Henry, umpire, supplied by the ECAC.

Big Ten and ECAC brass instructed the officials to remain mum on their actions, but Skibbie defended his call.

He said he reported the play to the referee as roughing the holder and maintained that it made no difference whether the foul was committed before or after the kick itself.

PENN STATE TO MEET PITT IN LAST GAME

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State's football team is headed for its final game of the season with Pitt Saturday in top physical condition.

Team trainers reported the Lions came through their victory meeting with Holy Cross last Saturday without so much as a minor injury. Penn State won the game, 34-14, assuring them of their 24th consecutive winning season.

But it is axiomatic at University Park that a truly successful season must include a win over traditional rival Pitt.

Consequently, the Lions' line coach Sever Toretti said the squad will stick to fundamental rock-sock-em football Saturday in lieu of any special formations.

"Never try to be fancy with Pitt," advised Toretti, who has scouted the Panthers this season.

"DON'T GET FANCY"
"If you try to get fancy with them, they'll knock you over," he added.

That was the sum of his observations of the Pitt team, which has collected a 3-6 record so far this season.

Toretti said Pitt's record is misleading. Some of its games could have gone the other way with some breaks for the Panthers. Also, he added, the Pittsburgh club was beset by injuries throughout most of the campaign.

The men State will have to look out for in particular, said Toretti, are Paul Martha and Fred Cox.

Martha is "real dangerous" as a rollout man, playing from the quarterback slot or as a speedster in the wingback position, Toretti said.

Cox, a place kicking specialist, can put the Panthers in scoring position any time they get inside of Penn State's 50-yard line, said Toretti.

LEAGUE ADMITS SECRET DRAFT TWO WEEKS AGO

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It used other terms to say it, but the American Football League has admitted in effect that it held a secret draft two weeks before the official date.

The club owners got together and "conducted a poll among themselves in respect to a limited number of players with whom they would have intraleague negotiation rights," was the way commissioner Joe Foss put it. He added that he didn't know it had happened.

Foss had agreed with the American Football Coaches Association that the draft would not be held until Dec. 2—the day the college football season ends.

And because the owners jumped the gun—as they did last year in holding a telephonic draft a month before the college season was over—it brought a roar from the coaches.

Jack Curtice of Stanford, president of the AFCA, said he was disappointed and shocked. "As president of the coaches association, I am certainly disappointed that the American Football League would break its word with the coaches," he snapped.

"We have tried to treat both leagues (the National Football League is the other) as fairly and equally as possible. It is not fair to a college football coach to have his players tampered with until the season is over."

MORE EMPHATIC

Bill Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten who is co-chairman of the football coaches-NCAA committee which worked out a draft ban until the end of the college season, was even more emphatic. He called the jump-the-gun draft an "absolute breach of faith." He said he had asked Foss for a repudiation of the draft.

Curtice said "if the AFL begins jumping the agreed date, the other league might also want to start jumping and before you know it you're going to have a mess."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League previously stated, however, that the premature action would not change NFL plans for its official draft, scheduled Dec. 4.

Baseball Clubs To Swap Between Loops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three-week interleague trading period opened among major league baseball clubs today with indications the exchange of players would be brisk.

Both new National League teams, the New York Mets and Houston Colts, are reported ready to jump into the market in an attempt to strengthen the rosters they formed during the special draft in Cincinnati the day after the World Series ended.

Among the players considered possible bait are Roy Sievers, power-hitting first baseman of the Chicago White Sox; infielder Harvey Kuenn of the Giants, who went to San Francisco from Cleveland in an interleague deal last year; and such headlines as first baseman Willie McCovey of the Giants, infielder Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox, and right-handers Paul Foytack of Detroit and Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves.

This is the third year of inter-league trading. In previous years, only a handful of major deals have been made.

States May Relieve Women Of Jury Duty Unless They Volunteer, Says High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court, with a 5-4 vote, ruled unanimously today that states may relieve women of jury duty unless they volunteer to serve.

The decision was given in the case of Mrs. Gwendolyn Hoyt, sentenced in Florida in 1955 to 30 years imprisonment for killing her husband with a baseball bat.

In an appeal to the high tribunal, Mrs. Hoyt's lawyers argued she was unconstitutionally deprived of equal protection of the law because the jury that tried her was all-male. Florida law says:

"The name of no female shall be taken for jury service unless said person has registered with the clerk of the court her desire to be placed on the jury list."

Justice Harlan, delivering the decision which turned down Mrs. Hoyt's appeal, said there has been an "enlightened emancipation" of women over the years. But still, he said, woman is considered to be the center of home and family life.

"We cannot say," he continued, "that it is constitutionally impermissible for a state, acting in pursuit of the general welfare, to conclude that a woman should be relieved from the civic duty of jury service unless she herself determines that such service is consistent with her own special responsibilities."

Florida is not alone in this position, said Harlan. He related that of 47 states where women are eligible for jury service, 17 in addition to Florida, plus the District of Columbia, give women an absolute exemption.

BACK FLORIDA LAW

Today's decision does not mean that all women who volunteer must be taken for jury service. The decision simply upheld the Florida law which says no woman shall be taken unless she registers her desire to be put on the jury list.

In another action, the high court agreed to review a case involving use of an electronic eavesdropping device concealed in a prison room used for conferences between prisoners, their lawyers and friends.

The appeal was filed by Harry Lanza, who was sentenced to a year in jail for refusing to testify about conversations he had in the room in the Eastview prison in Westchester County, N.Y.

Lanza conferred with his brother, Joseph, after the latter was put in the prison on a charge of violation of parole. Joseph later was restored to parole and the parole action was investigated by the Joint Legislative Committee on Government Operations.

The committee voted to grant immunity from prosecution to Harry Lanza, but he refused to answer 19 questions. Among other actions, the high tribunal denied a hearing to Salvatore Agron, a Puerto Rican boy facing execution in New York for the slaying of two 16-year-old boys at a darkened playground on the West Side of Manhattan. Agron, born in Mayaguez, P.R., to Rico, stabbed the two boys to death and almost fatally stabbed a third on the early morning of Aug. 30, 1959. His counsel said he was then one day past his 17th birthday.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

NO PEEKING, NO PINCHING. The charm of an evening dress is ruined by a bra that plays peek-a-boo. Worse, an evening is spoiled by a pinching girdle. And all so unnecessarily! These days, foundations are designed to underline every evening silhouette down to the last detail. And they feel like nothing at all, owing to "weightless" constructions and fabrics. Not taking advantage of those boons would seem downright perverse, or maybe downright careless.

To find the just-right style, size and fit, a lovely has to make only the smallest effort. She merely has to put two and two together—pair the style of her dress and foundations. A corsetiere takes care of the comfort and control technicalities.

Purely as a guide to wily matchmaking, this summary of evening foundations in the feather-light category:

- Princess-styled corselets and long bras, made of supple fabric. The better to underscore dresses with the supple princess silhouette!
- Strapless brassieres, engineered without wiring. These achieve lift via light boning or net lining. Anchored to the waist with an elastic band, long-line styles are particularly suited to fit-and-flare fashions. They should be worn with high-rise girdles.
- Backless bras for those back-plunging necklines.
- Pantie corselets, long of leg, to wear under the clinging dress.
- For every dress, color-blended foundations. And just for the sake of feeling perfectly under-dressed!

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN — The annual fall banquet of the Carroll-Adams Riding Club, Inc., was held Friday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Company hall along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. Eighty-five persons, club members and their guests, were in attendance. The roast beef supper was served by the Kingsdale Fire Company Auxiliary.

Clyde W. Crouse was master of ceremonies for the affair and the entertainment included a chorus line act by Irvin DeGroot, Richard DeGroot, Melvin DeGroot, Terry DeGroot, Wilmer Barnes and Byron Barnes. The members of the chorus line were dressed in women's apparel and danced to the accompaniment of the Carroll County Ramblers. Several comedy contests were conducted. Five door prizes were awarded. Favors were marshmallow horses. The recently elected officers were introduced and they are: President, Wilmer Barnes; vice president, Wilmer Clapsaddle; secretary, Mrs. Wilmer Barnes; treasurer, Mrs. Melvin DeGroot. The entertainment was arranged by the women of the club. Following the program there was dancing to the music of the Carroll County Ramblers. The next regular meeting of the club will be held Thursday, December 7, at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse at Sunset Hill Farm, near town.

The Loyalty Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will have a Christmas party in connection with the next meeting on Monday, December 4, at the church. Plans for this affair will be made at a meeting of the hostess committee, which includes Mrs. John H. Riley, chairman; Mrs. James V. Yingling, Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz, Mrs. George Worley, Mrs. L.

YOUNG MOTHER, OLDEST CHILD DIE IN BLAZE

LERAYSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A fire Monday night swept a house in this eastern Pennsylvania community, killing a young mother and her oldest child. But rescue efforts by the mother and her husband saved five other small children.

Firemen recovered the bodies of Mrs. Clara Brown, 30, and her daughter, Sandy, 9, some four hours after the blaze had destroyed the 1½-story home.

Fire chief Harold Williams said Mrs. Brown and her husband, Edwin, managed to carry out and drop from a ladder the other children ranging in age from 8 months to six years.

Williams said Mrs. Brown and Sandy became trapped in the smoke and flames. The fire chief said the house sulted in cheaper prices for food. Actually it has. The price of chicken, for example, has dropped a penny a pound a year since World War II.

WHERE COSTS COME IN

"And the price paid to the farmer for the basic foods he produces has dropped 12 per cent during the period since. However, we want our foods better processed today. One-third of our women work and they want the prepared mixes and the food processed ready to be warmed and served. As a result food that costs $6.07 today could be prepared at a cost of $4 if the lady of the house wanted to begin with the basic ingredients. But if she did there would be a difference. It would take her five hours to prepare a meal she can now prepare in 1 1/2 hours.

"We have additional costs thus involved in the processing of the food and in distribution and packaging.

"The costs of packaging and distribution have increased 36 per cent. If we want the corn in a box of corn flakes we can buy it from the farmer for 2 1/2 cents, but if we want the corn flakes in the box it will cost us 26 cents.

COMPLEX PROBLEM

"But even with the increased cost brought about by processing and packaging and distribution we are still getting our food cheaper, based on the time it takes us to earn it. One hour of factory wages in 1935 bought seven loaves of bread. Today it buys ten. The same hour's wages in 1935 bought five quarts of milk, today it buys eight quarts.

"Agriculture is tremendously complex. One farmer grows one thing, another something else. There are so many differences that any solution of the farm problem must be tremendously complex.

SPECIAL MUSIC

Kiwanis President Kenneth Foust presided at the meeting. The speaker was introduced by Wayne Cluck. John Kershaw reported that the local club with an 87 per cent attendance average ranks third in the district. In addition, the club received last month 20 points, the largest amount it could receive, for youth service and 12 out of a possible 15 points in community service. It also received 10 out of a possible 10 points for boys and girls activities.

A quartet from the Soroptimist Club sang "The House I Live In" and "Kentucky Babe." A skit was presented by Mrs. Kermit Deardorff, Miss Roberta Biltzinger and Mrs. Howard Sharrah of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Roy Thomas led group singing. Rev. Fr. Harold Mowen gave the address of welcome to the visitors. Mrs. Edith Bushman introduced Business and Professional Women members present and Dr. Elizabeth Gregg introduced the Soroptimist members.

Pittsburgh Man
Named U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide to Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., says

Michael's twin sister, Mary Strawbridge, and Dr. Robert C. Gardner of Harvard's Peabody Museum. Gardner last spring led an anthropological expedition — which Michael joined — into the remote Bialien Valley of New Guinea in search for primitive artifacts. Michael remained in New Guinea after the party broke up.

Louis Rosenberg, Pittsburgh's public safety director, has been given a recess appointment as federal district judge for western Pennsylvania.

The aide said he was advised by the White House Monday of the appointment.

"I'm very pleased. What else can I say," Rosenberg said when contacted at his Pittsburgh home Monday night.

A native of Beaver Falls, Rosenberg was appointed safety director by former Mayor David Lawrence in 1956. Prior to that he was an assistant city solicitor.

REV. MILLER IS ORDAINED ON SUNDAY NIGHT

The Rev. Howard W. Miller, who last week completed his theological studies, was ordained in the Lutheran ministry on Sunday by the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland, in a service conducted Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown.

Liturgist for the service was the Rev. Roy L. Sloop and the preacher was the Rev. Dr. Augustus Hackman. The special music was under the direction of Carl E. Schroeder.

An informal reception for the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Miller was held in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately after the ordination service. The reception was arranged by the women of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Miller is a native of Baltimore, a graduate of Washington College at Chestertown, Md., in 1948. He received his Master's degree from the University of Maryland in 1950 and for six years taught at the Catonsville, Md., High School and then worked for two years with the Martin Company in Baltimore. In December, 1958, he began the theological studies at Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary and last May was called to the Taneytown Church.

The Rev. Mr. Miller is married to the former Joan Marie Duncan and they have two children, a son, David Christopher, aged eight, and a daughter, Susan Marie, aged six.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Republican State Committee may purchase a list of state employees from the Commonwealth for $296. Roy A. Schafer, Gov. Lawrence's secretary, put the price tag on the list of about 79,000 names in a letter Monday to GOP State Chairman George I. Bloom.

The Republican leader offered to buy the list last week after the administration said they would have to search state records if they wanted the names.

CANNERS HAVE
4 LETTERMEN
ON CAGE SQUAD

Four Senior lettermen will form the nucleus for the Biglerville High School basketball squad which is now holding daily workouts in preparation for the opening game at Littlestown on December 1.

Five letter winners of a year ago will be missing. Rodney Sheaffer, Wayne Lochbaum and Terry Thomas graduated last spring; Glenn Olmstead moved from the area, while Wilson Harmon is ineligible this season. The returning lettermen are Gordon Harvey 5-8, William Sanni 5-7, Barry Trostle 6-0, and Gary Beatty 6-0.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Rounding out the 13-man squad are: Seniors, Tom Hoffman 6-1, who saw action with the Jayvees last season and also saw some duty with the varsity; Phil Beidler 5-10, who was the student manager last year; Edgar Hildebrand 5-11, and Gary Fair 5-7.

Juniors — Richard Dull 5-11; Phil Pitzer 6-2, and Leroy Wetzel 5-7.

Sophomores — Bobby Bream 5-7, and Bob Garretson 6-0.

Coach Bernie Thrush said today the offensive play of his squad shows promise but that improvement on the defense is needed and drills on that phase of the game will receive particular attention.

A 19-game schedule faces the Cannons. Last season Biglerville compiled a 3-18 record. The squad feels confident of a big improvement during the coming campaign.

The first Olympic Games recorded occurred in 776 B.C. in Greece.

Don't tell HIM our traffic laws are too tough!

He was driving to a business meeting, on a well-traveled highway. As he rounded a curve he saw another car, crossing the medial strip and heading right at him! The other driver, who was killed in the resulting crash, suffered a heart attack as he drove. It wasn't his first, and his physician felt that he shouldn't have been driving at all.

Periodic physical examinations are now a part of Pennsylvania's traffic safety program, to help save lives by eventually keeping unfit drivers off the road. Too tough? Don't tell that to this accident victim.

If you are planning a trip for Thanksgiving, obey all the laws... they're made to eliminate traffic deaths.

Adenauer Making Last Bid To Solve German Problems

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — An old man, who for 12 years nursed an idea which now seems as forlorn as the last leaf of the wind has forgotten, Monday began another round in a career which is coming to a close.

At 85, West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer is the oldest head of a major government. He came here to talk with President Kennedy about Berlin, the Russians, and East Germany. What he has in mind isn't clear at all at this point.

He is still vigorous but he is on his way out. An Associated Press report from Bonn this month talked of German "resentment that has built up over the years to his authoritarian ways."

PARTY WAS DEFEATED
It was demonstrated last September when in West Germany's elections his Christian Democratic party failed to win a majority in Parliament. He had to seek the support of the Free Democrats in order to get re-elected chancellor once more.

After seven weeks of haggling, the Free Democrats exacted a price. They were willing to put up with him but not indefinitely. On Nov. 8 he gave them a written guarantee he would retire before his term's end in 1965. It may be 1963.

It is against this background that he is here—a leader whose days are numbered—to discuss with Kennedy solutions which will affect the future of Europe and therefore the Western alliance against communism.

MUCH U.S. HELP
Under his leadership, but with large American help, his country has risen from devastation to a soaring prosperity which 12 years ago might have seemed unbelievable. But his vision was broader than Germany.

He led his country into the Western Alliance. Through his relations with French President Charles de Gaulle he has sought to dry up the ancient German-French enmity.

He took his country into the European common market, which may do more for the prosperity of that area than any single act in history.

3RD WORLD FORCE
The result may be a Western Europe so powerful and united that it will be truly a third world force—no longer looking to this country for protection or leadership—which will be a balance between the United States and Russia.

These are tremendous achievements and prospects, so much so that the growing strength of West Germany gave Premier Khrushchev added incentive for wishing the Western Alliance dissolved.

By demanding the Allies get out of West Berlin, Khrushchev has challenged West Germany.

Unless some understanding is reached with him by the Allies,

West Berlin may slowly be shut off from the West even though its links are with West Germany. Adenauer hasn't produced any solutions to meet or offset Khrushchev's tactics.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.
